The Russell was completed in 1903, was 425 feet long, displaced 14,000 tons, was armed with 36 guns and four torpedo tubes and cost $5,000,000.

She is the eleventh British battleship lost during the war, while about 35 other British warships of various classes have been destroyed.

A German submarine was sunk yesterday off the east coast of England, 18 men of her crew being captured, London states officially.

Many Ships Lost.

Chicago, April 28.—Because she kept up a casual correspondence of a purely personal character with her father, who was banished from Austria-Hungary, Miss Alice Mazaryk, former settlement worker of Chicago, has been executed by Austrians, according to dispatches.

Ever since the news of her arrest and detention became known some weeks ago, her friends in this and other cities conducted a campaign to save her. News has just been received of the execution and her many acquaintances were shocked.

A letter written by the girl's sister, Miss Olga Mazaryk, who is studying in Westfield College, London, and received Wednesday by Miss Mary McDowell of the Northwestern Settlement, has been made public. It throws some light on the cause of what is held to be the most infamous act of the barbaric slaughter abroad.

Gives Out Pathetic Letter.

Miss McDowell, who made public the letter, said every effort will be made to learn the true fate of the girl. The letter in its most interesting parts follows:

"Regarding the fate of our Alice, I'm afraid we know very little, as we are entirely cut off, but I will try to tell you all I know, though I do not see what we can do."

"Father and I left Prague in December, 1914, and it was fairly peaceful then, at least there was no systematic persecution at the time. We were in touch with mother and Alice and both brothers till the following spring. Then my older brother died. Of course, we could not go back, for father had news that he would be shot if he did. From that time we heard very seldom from home. My other brother was forced to join the Austrian army."

Girl Thrown into Prison.

"Alice was imprisoned in October, 1915. The reason given was that she was in connection with father after he left home. And that connection was only occasional cards or short letters, which were all censored by the Austrians. Another reason, so far as we could learn, was that she had given a box of father's scientific books, not political ones, to a friend to keep in safety. Alice was probably suspected of political action, but she is innocent. She did not even know of father's work. Father thought it safer not to tell her."

The girl's father was a professor in the University of Prague, and because of his advocacy of democracy has been banished from Austria. He is now in London.

GERARD'S VISIT TO KAISER IS HOPEFUL

CAREFUL OBSERVERS SEE ENCOURAGING OMEN IN EMPEROR'S INVITATION

GERMANY TO U. S. DEMANDS

Embassy at Washington Received Dispatches To That Effect From Berlin.

(Associated Press)

Dispatches received at the German embassy in Washington today from Berlin indicate that Germany will attempt to meet the American demand for an immediate abandonment of her present practices in submarine warfare. The source of information or the nature of the proposals was not disclosed.

Situation Hopeful.

Ambassador Gerard and Secretary Grew of the American legation are expected to reach the German army headquarters at 7 o'clock tonight for their audience with Emperor William. The invitation from the Kaiser is regarded in Berlin as a good omen. However, conservative observers still consider the situation as being very grave.

Investigate Statements.

Certain statements of Irish-American papers in New York since the outbreak of the riots in Dublin are being investigated by the U. S. government. One editorial stated that the information which led to the sinking of the German ship which was attempting to land arms in Ireland came from members of the administration at Washington. This has been denied by officials.

Goes to Emperor.

Minister of the Navy von Capella left Berlin Wednesday to confer with the Kaiser.

Annilate British.

Constantinople reports that Turkish troops annihilated four British cavalry squadrons, about 800 men, April 23, near Quatia, 25 miles east of the Suez canal.

New British Crisis.

London newspapers speak of the withdrawal of the military service bills as presenting a new political crisis.

Berlin, April 28.—The German admiralty announces that the British submarine E-22 has been sunk by German naval forces. The announcement also says a British cruiser of the Arethusa class was hit by a torpedo from a German submarine.

The announcement given out under date of April 26, is as follows:

"The German naval forces April 25 sank the British submarine E-22. The Germans rescued and captured two men."

"A German submarine on the same day hit with a torpedo a British cruiser of the Arethusa class."

London, April 28.—It was announced officially here that the British submarine E-22 was sunk, as reported in a wireless dispatch from Berlin.

ALLEGES ANTI-WILSON PLOT

Senator Husting Denounces Pro-German Telegraph Campaign.

Washington, April 28.—Senator Husting, Democrat, told the senate that the "American Embargo Conference" had conducted a campaign in Wisconsin to induce him to support an embargo resolution against shipment of war munitions to Europe. He submitted a thousand letters from Wisconsin citizens which he said emanated from the Chicago headquarters of this organization.

Senator Husting said that thousands of telegrams deluging congress charging the president with seeking war with Germany emanated from the "embargo conference." He declared there was a "deep-laid plot to poison the minds of citizens all over the country with the thought that the president wants war, when every fact gives the lie to such an assertion."

MORE SOLDIERS TO CROSS BORDER TODAY

HALE OF U. S. FORCES AT COLUMBUS RECEIVED MARCHING ORDERS TODAY.

OBREGON IS NOW AT JUAREZ

Mexican General and Party Arrived There This Morning — Are Awaiting Funston.

(Associated Press)

Gen. Obregon, Mexican minister of war, arrived in Juarez today and is waiting to confer with Gens. Scott and Funston of the U. S. A. in connection with the American expedition in Mexico.

In Obregon's party, which reached Juarez today, are Gen. Travino, military governor of Chihuahua; Gov. Enriquez of Chihuahua and President Herrera of Parral.

Rebels Defeated.

The rebels were defeated north of Oaxaca, with a loss of 500 killed and many wounded and captured, by the Constitutional army, according to advices received in Mexico City.

May Urge Withdrawal.

In an effort to convince Scott and Funston that the American troops should be withdrawn from Mexico, it is believed that Obregon will assure the Americans that 40,000 Carranza troops in the northern part of the country are able to control the small band of Villistas still at large.

May Visit Headquarters.

Army officers at San Antonio believe Gen. Funston will visit the field headquarters of the American forces following the conference with Obregon.

More Troops to Cross.

Half of the U. S. soldiers stationed at Columbus, mostly cavalry have received marching orders and will probably cross the line today to reinforce Gen. Pershing.

Washington, April 28.—The United States is prepared to set a tentative date for the withdrawal of the troops from Mexico. This arrangement will be coupled with a condition the time will be extended if Villa has not been captured or his band has not been thoroughly dispersed when the appointed day arrives. General Scott will be instructed at once to make this suggestion to General Obregon, if the latter asks that the troops be withdrawn.

San Antonio, April 28.—The conference of General Scott and General Funston with General Obregon will take place at El Paso or at Juarez, it was definitely announced at department headquarters. General Scott and General Funston have gone to El Paso.

Corrected List of Wounded.

Washington, April 28.—General Funston sent a corrected list of the three troopers of the 7th cavalry wounded in the engagement with Villa bandits near Tomachic. The wounded are: Private Thomas Henry, troop H, left leg; Louis Krahn, quartermaster sergeant, troop H, right arm, and Private William F. Matias, troop H, right side.

Consul Warns U. S. Citizens.

El Paso, April 28.—Disturbing reports were received here from many points in northern and central Mexico regarding anti-American feeling on the part of the peons. The most serious of these reports referred to towns in Durango, and especially to Durango City, where Americans still living there have been warned repeatedly by Homer C. Coen, United States consul, to depart. As far as can be learned here not more than twelve Americans remain in Durango City. The majority of them have married into Mexican families, and for that reason they have so far considered themselves safe.

The present trouble seems to be due in part to the persistent anti-American campaign by the Mexican papers in the state capital. This campaign has been greatly intensified in violence since the clash at Parral between United States soldiers and Carranza troops.

Americans Accused of Massacre.

Americans who have arrived here from Durango and Southern Chihuahua say that the Parral incident has been magnified out of all proportions and grossly distorted by Mexican papers, which have described it as a great Mexican victory. The American soldiers are declared by these papers not only to have been badly beaten but to have shown the white feather and run away, after massacring a number of Mexican women and children.

At the same time most of the reports agree that the Carranza generals and other responsible officers have done everything in their power to restrain the civilian population and have shown an earnest desire to avoid an outbreak.

TEXAS.

Texas is the Wm. H. Taft of the commonwealths. It is the largest state in the Union and has by far the greatest waist measure. It has almost 4,000,000 people and yet there aren't enough of them in any one spot to make a city of 100,000 citizens. All the people in the world could gather in Texas and there would still be sufficient room for the gentlemenly sufficiency to pass between the rows selling tickets for the big concert to take place after the show.

Texas is over a thousand miles long each way, and contains 150,000 square miles. Passenger trains frequently lose two days' time in passing through the state and Texans die of sunstroke and freezing in the same afternoon. Ten thousand land agents have been selling farms in Texas for thirty years, and there are still places in the state one hundred miles from the nearest drug store. There are some things like 13,000 miles of railroad in the state and yet in some sections a man has to get up early and run for nearly three weeks in order to catch the train to town.

When first discovered Texas consisted mostly of cosmic junk, including cactus, rattlesnakes, tarantulas, horned toads and four kinds of climate. Later the greaser, a species invented by the Spaniards, moved in and the rattlesnakes moved north in search of better society. In the past 70 years, however, great improvements have been made. The cactus, which formerly grew over the state so thickly that it was impossible for a citizen to fall off his horse without puncturing himself in 11,000 places, is now being replaced by cotton bolls, cattle ranches and corner lots, and the horns of the horns have been used to promote prohibition campaigns with marked success.

Texas raises cotton, rice, sters and democratic majorities in tremendous quantities. It is as natural for a Texan to be a democrat as it is for a Japanese to be a slant-eyed Republican.

There are so scarce in the state that it is sometimes necessary to appoint democratic postmasters. The state is governed by a legislature of great firmness and industry, whose great diversion is regulating corporations and railroads. It has regulated the latter so carefully that it now takes three corporation counsels to run a freight train across the state without incurring $1,000,000 in fines. The society for the prevention of cruelty to railroad presidents is growing rapidly in the state.

The metropolis of Texas is San Antonio, the most interesting foreign city in the United States. It is being pushed hard by Dallas and Houston, little cities with deep bass voices, and by Galveston, which was swept away by a tidal wave fourteen years ago, but which has come back and dares the gulf to do it again.

MOTHER OF FOUR CHILDREN

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her Well and Strong.

Lincoln, Illinois.—"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for ten years with good results and I have four healthy children. This summer I was in a very run down condition and the very best of doctors could not stand, but I commenced taking your Compound in June and from then until September 25th, when my last baby was born, I got along much better than I had before.

My baby was a girl and weighed 14 pounds at birth, and I recovered very rapidly which I am sure was due to your medicine. I am well and strong now, nurse my baby and do all my work. I had the same good results with your medicine when needed before my other children came and they are all healthy. My mother has taken your medicine with equal satisfaction. She had her last child when nearly 44 years old and feels confident she never would have carried him through without your help, as her health was very poor."—Mrs. T. F. CLOYD, 1355 North Gulick Ave., Decatur, Ill.

Expectant mothers should profit by Mrs. Cloyd's experience, and trust to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

A. F. OF L. WILL NOT AID RAIL MEN'S FIGHT

Gompers Tells Union Heads His Body's Attitude.

Chicago, April 28.—The American Federation of Labor, through President Samuel Gompers, turned down the railroad employees' request for support in case the present controversy with the railroads comes to a strike, according to an unconfirmed report that reached the railroad's representatives who conferred here with the union men on the shorter hours demand.

Officials of the railroad brotherhoods saw Gompers in Washington recently, it was said, and asked that the A. F. of L. throw its huge power behind the railroad men both in influencing the public in the present demands and in aiding in the actual strike if a strike should come. "You railroad men have always held yourselves aloof from the rest of the unions," was Gompers' reported reply. "You have set yourselves above us and have never helped us in any of our troubles. I see no reason why the federation should exert itself to help you now."

IOWA INDUSTRIES GROWING

Estimate of Value of Manufactures More Than $300,000,000.

Des Moines, Ia., April 28.—Figures on manufactures in Iowa compiled and made public by the Des Moines Chamber of Commerce increases the recent estimate made by the chamber in which it was stated that the total of Iowa manufacturers probably would be $300,000,000 in value. The former estimate was based on incoming returns, plus a fair estimate of increase for towns under 10,000 population.

ILLINOISAN HELD IN FATHER'S "SUICIDE"

Stephen Sudduth Quarreled with Parent over Girl's Charges.

Paris, Ill., April 28.—A warrant was issued for the arrest of Stephen Sudduth, charging him with the murder of his father, Odis M. Sudduth, who was reported to have killed himself while despondent over ill-health.

The warrant was issued following an investigation of Sudduth's death by State's Attorney Hickman.

At a coroner's inquest, evidence was introduced that Sudduth and his son after returning from Paris, engaged in a quarrel in which the elder Sudduth was shot.

The two men and Mrs. Sudduth struggled for possession of the shotgun, the evidence showed, and in the scuffle two shots were fired, the bullets entering the body of the elder Sudduth.

Stephen Sudduth had been under a $2,000 peace bond, signed by his father, following charges made by a 16-year-old girl across the Indiana line. It is said a discussion of this subject caused the quarrel.

SCIENCE—INDUSTRY.

Lost Skill of the Ancients.

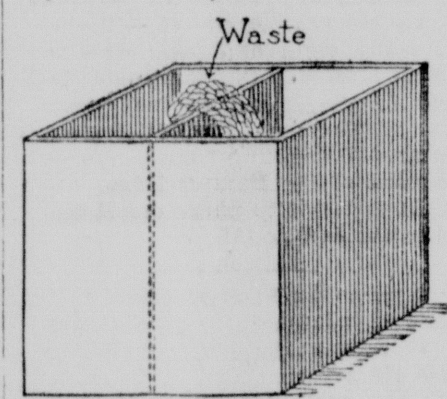

From the earliest periods of which we have historical records one of man's greatest problems has been to lift heavy loads rapidly and efficiently. Some of the greatest monuments of antiquity were built under conditions that involved lifting of heavy pieces of building material to great heights, but how it was done we do not know to this day. The manner in which the great stones were raised to their places in the pyramids in Egypt has always been a mystery and probably always will be. It is certain, however, that the builders of these wonderful monuments were possessed of mechanical contrivances that were lost in the dark ages intervening between their time and ours, or they possessed patience to a more remarkable degree than is exhibited in any race of men at the present time.—Engineering Magazine.

Device For Washing Air.

An attachment for an electric fan for cooling and washing air has been developed by a Los Angeles man. The device consists of a metal drum just large enough in circumference to fit over the guard of a fan. At the lower part of the circle is a water tank, which requires filling not oftener than once a day. Inside the drum is a series of blades similar to those of a windmill, which are turned by the breeze of the electric fan, and as they revolve the tip of each in turn enters and leaves the water tank. The blades are of wire netting, which holds the drops of liquid in the mesh, so that a considerable amount of water is undergoing evaporation all the time the air current passes over it.

side and saturate a piece of waste with oil and hang it over the partition so one end is immersed in the dirty oil. By the action of capillarity the oil will flow from one side to the other, leaving the dirt behind.

The Missouri River.

The Missouri is one of the great drainage channels of the United States, measuring in total length about 2,400 miles. It drains 527,155 square miles, a territory as great as that embraced in the states of New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, North Carolina, Tennessee, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi. Although the Missouri may never again be utilized as a means of communication and transportation, it is destined to play a large part in the better development of its drainage basin by furnishing water for irrigation and for generating power.—United States Geological Survey.

New Calculating Device.

Designed to meet the requirements of bookkeepers and clerical workers, a comparatively inexpensive rapid calculating device has been introduced, which is capable of adding, subtracting and multiplying quickly and accurately. The instrument is about ten and one-half inches long, two and one-quarter inches wide and half an inch thick. It is provided with a series of seven dials, which are revolved by a stylus when making calculations. A single turn of one of the wheels adds a figure to a previous register and simultaneously shows a total. The device may be used on a ledger page and moved downward as the work proceeds.

MILLER TOPS LEAGUE WITH AVERAGE OF 500

DIXON MAN WITH ST. LOUIS AMERICANS HAS GREAT RECORD FOR PITCH HITTER.

Unofficial averages of the American league batters, including games played Wednesday, show that Ward Miller of this city, outfielder of the St. Louis bunch, is leading the league with an average of 500. Ward has not been able to get in the game regularly because of a weak ankle which was sprained during the train season, but he has been sent up as a pinch hitter six times and half of that number he delivered safely.

The averages show "Windy" has his safely three times in his six trips to the plate, while Nunamaker of New York, who is second on the list, has gathered 12 hits in 21 times up. The New Yorker's average is 38.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Nature's Warnings.

There are times when every one realizes that he is on the verge of illness. At such time, if at all possible, a day in bed is the best possible medicine and often will stave off sickness. Rest is one of nature's simplest and most effective aids to healing and if taken in time may be warranted to "make a new man of you." An extremely light diet or a fast for twenty-four hours serves the same purpose in giving the digestive organs a needed rest. There are some people who boast of their ability to keep going regardless of the warnings which nature serves in time of danger. For awhile they may successfully avoid the penalty, but usually they have to "pay the piper," and in full. Better a short voluntary rest now and then than one enforced by serious sickness as the result of disregarding nature's warnings.

Sudan Grass Seed

Sudan Grass Has No Knockers—Everyone Who Has Tried It Sings Its Praise.

Nothing within the memory of living man has created such a stir among agriculturists all over the American continent as Sudan Grass.

It seems to overshadow even Alfalfa. The remarkable thing about all this publicity is that every one is singing the song of praise.

Sudan Grass has no knockers. Here is a crop that has put many a farmer on his legs. Discouragement has been turned into encouragement, delight and immense profit.

The possibilities for Sudan Grass are unlimited. It absolutely refuses not to grow. It produces more and better hay than any other forage crop. Under ordinary conditions yields 600 to 1,200 lbs. of seed and from 3 to 6 tons of choice hay to the acre the same year. Some farmers are making from $40.00 to $100.00 an acre from the hay and from $200.00 to $700.00 an acre from seed. IT IS AN ANNUAL Harvest it from two to four times a season. It dries out like oats or any other grain crop. Live stock prefer it to other grass. SUDAN GRASS IS THE MOST ACCOMMODATING GRASS EVER INTRODUCED INTO THIS COUNTRY. It will thrive under conditions of drouth or excessive moisture; it is excellent either for high, exposed positions or for bottom land. All conditions of soil seem alike to it. It can be successfully raised in any state in the Union.

SUDAN—ITS HISTORY.
As the name implies, comes from Sudan of Africa, and was first introduced in the United States in 1909 by the Department of Agriculture. Since that time it has been experimented with and tested in all sections of the United States. The Government, in fact, estimates that its feeding value is only 3% less than the other common crops, while stock eat it in preference to even Alfalfa. In brief, Sudan solves the hay and pasturage problem for a very large section of the United States.

In planting Sudan Grass be sure you get Northern Grown Seed. Prices delivered to your station, with planting instructions, using five lbs. per acre.

Birthday Luncheon
The birthday of Mrs. Fred Wagner was made the occasion Thursday of a delightful luncheon and afternoon of sociability at her home on Depot Avenue by the members of the Snadai club. A dainty luncheon was served at one o'clock preceded by a morning at crocheting and tatting and following by an afternoon spent in playing cards. Red carnations and ferns decorated the luncheon table. The following poem was written in honor of the occasion by one of the members of the club and read after the luncheon:
Birthdays, Birthdays, we enjoy them!
That's why all of us are here.
First with Jessie, then with Anna,
Clara, now comes Ollie, dear.
She has met us with a smile too,
Welcomed us to her nice home;
That is why she's always happy,
Making all feel glad they've come.
We're a jolly bunch of Snadai's,
Always full of fun and pranks,
Never grouchy, never lazy,
Like a lot of naughty cranks.
We all try to be broad minded,
Always bear each other's load;
Thus we do as we've been done by,
All along this earthly road.
We don't care how others manage,
Only so we're let alone;
They may have their cards and dances,
We'll just have some of our own.
While we eat our scramble dinner,
We'll engage in friendly chat;
Then we'll all of us be ready,
To pay cards, croquet or tat.
Now, dear Ollie, may your birthdays
Always be both bright and sweet,
Health, and everyone that loves you,
Make your happiness complete.
Mrs. Wagner received many beautiful gifts during the day, among them a handsome new piano, the gift of Mr. Wagner.

THE REPORTED SLATE.

Concerning the fallacy of the reported anti-primary slate making, the silly report of which has been swallowed by a few of the more gullible country papers, the Rockford Register-Gazette submits the following:

The statement which was printed in at least one Chicago newspaper that a slate was agreed upon at the republican state convention at Peoria last week is absolutely without truth or foundation, in fact. The writer knows whereof he speaks when he says that no slate was considered, discussed or even proposed by anyone and the story printed was simply the result of the clever imagination of a clever political writer of a metropolitan newspaper, desirous of filling space and, to use a slang phrase, "to stir up the animals," as it were.

The new chairman of the republican state committee, in a statement telegraphed to the Chicago newspapers and printed, makes emphatic denial of the story, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding. He declares that if a slate was proposed by anyone he would feel it would be beyond his duty to even consider such a proposal, adding:

"The law provides for a primary for nomination for state officers. If anything be done contrary to the spirit of the act, and to close the opportunity of nomination in a free primary election to any candidate, it would only serve to engender bitterness to the injury of the party."

Colonel Frank O. Lowden, in the official announcement of his candidacy for the republican nomination for governor made on Thursday, April 13th, stated among other things, the following:

"I will not be a party to any slate ticket. As a candidate I shall make no promises, either express or implied, and shall have no alliances, either direct or remote, which will embarrass the free exercise of my best judgment in discharging the duties of governor, should I be nominated and elected."

The Register-Gazette knows whereof it speaks when it states that Col. Lowden stood squarely on that declaration at the Peoria convention of last week and will continue in his determination, until primary day in September "not to be a party to any slate ticket," all reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

The republican state convention at Peoria last Thursday and Friday was the most largely attended, most representative and most enthusiastic of any convention held in Illinois since the passage of the primary law, presaging certain victory for the whole republican ticket in November.

Every county in the state had a large representation of delegates.

One of the most significant and pleasing sights at the convention was when Medill McCormick, the temporary chairman, Roosevelt leader four years ago, grasped the hand of Wm. B. McKinley, the permanent chairman, who was the Taft leader in the last campaign. It marked the reuniting of the two elements of the republican party in 1912 and aroused the greatest sort of enthusiasm in the convention. It was a picture good for the hearts of all who are striving for harmony and republican success this fall.

COMFORTABLE FORGETTING.

The phenomenon of Mexican contempt for the United States is apparent but inexplicable to Americans. We, as a consciously arrogant and superior breed, ask to know where they get that stuff. We can understand men making mistakes in judgment, but we cannot understand the process of thought by which Mexicans arrive at the conclusion that they are better men.

It stands in our history books that a handful of Americans went into Mexico in 1846 and did deeds against great numbers—deeds such as have not been recorded elsewhere since Marathon. In the Mexican war, we flatter ourselves, we got a hold of something we could lick and lick plenty. The more they came the faster they went.

Therefore, perfectly understanding why a gringo may properly despise a greaser, we fail completely to comprehend how a greaser may despise a gringo.

The explanation, friends, is almost too subtle for exposition. The military experiences in Mexico have left just as little impression on the Mexican mind as the military experiences of the United States have left upon the American mind.

The Mexican mind sloughs off the exploit of General Scott in entering Mexico City just as easily as the American mind sloughs off the exploit of Gen. Ross in entering and burning Washington. The Mexicans did not run any faster ahead of Scott than the Americans ran ahead of Ross. The Mexicans have not forgotten their various humiliations any more easily than the Americans have forgotten theirs. The Mexicans have been just about as much guided by their experience as we have been guided by ours.

Mexican heroics have been about as much modified by Mexican abjectness as American heroics have been modified by American abjectness. The Americans who console themselves with the thought of a million men springing to arms over night are good Americans Mex.—Chicago Tribune.

THE DWINDLING PAPER SUPPLY.

The paper shortage is an inconvenience in this country and a very serious matter in Europe. The London Daily Standard, after a career of sixty years, has been forced to suspend publication because of the increased price of paper stock and the difficulty of obtaining supplies at all. That there should be a great shortage of paper and high prices in Europe is to be expected, even though the paper is not directly related to the demands of war. But why should the price continually advance and publishers be seriously inconvenienced in this country? The answer is that the supplies used in the manufacture of paper has been decreased by war conditions and in some instances almost shut off.

Even the supply of old rags is affected by the demand for the making of gun cotton. "The chemicals used in bleaching the paper produced by sulphuric acid and alum," the Review of Reviews explains, "are being devoured by the manufacture of explosives; while importations of jute have fallen off until the price is doubled. An embargo has been placed on shipments of the wood pulp from Norway and Sweden, while Canada stopped access to her vast resources some time ago. The newspaper publisher is hard hit by war conditions in many other items of supplies besides the basic one of paper stock. Practically everything going into the manufacture of a daily newspaper has increased in price from ten to fifty per cent." The metropolitan daily is confronted with increased cost in inks and type as well as in the paper stock.

Daddy's Bedtime

Story—Bibley Wah Gives The Minnows a Ride On the Baby's Sled.

She Hopped Up and Down, Screaming.

"Oh, daddy, it's Bibley Wah night!" the children reminded him. So he began: "You both know that what somebody else has always seems much nicer than your very own. Evelyn likes Jack's mittens better than hers, and Jack always wants to put his skates on Evelyn's shelf." The children grinned, and daddy went on: "Well, one beautiful winter day Bobbie and Jim and Bibley Wah went down Uncle Ben's hill to visit the little Frenchies. Their father had just made them a lovely new sled and painted it bright red. Soon as Bibley Wah saw it she liked it much better than her own, which she had brought along so the boys might take turns pulling her back up the hill home. Of course the red sled belonged to all the eleven Frenchies, because their papa had no time to make so many sleds. But they all called it Baby Emile's sled. Now, while Marta, the Frenchies' mamma, was serving the guests hot chocolate and Mary Antoinette's cake Bibley Wah made love to Emile and got him to say he would trade sleds with her."

"Did she keep both sleds?" Evelyn grinned once more. "Oh, no! But when the boys got ready to go home she hopped up and down and screamed so loudly that everybody was quite glad to give her the red sled. So off home she toddled, dragging Emile's sled behind her, while her own, with a beautiful bluebird painted across the seat, was being all scratched by the huge buttons their mother always sewed on the Frenchies' funny, bulgy little blouses."

"Well, when the boys had dragged Bibley Wah up the hill they stopped to rest by their skating pond, which they always dammed at a turn in Uncle Ben's charming brook. While they were testing the ice to see if it was strong enough to skate on, Bibley Wah ran farther till she came to an open current, and then she put the red sled right through the ice so the little minnows might have a ride on it. Quick as lightning the current caught it, swept it beyond her reach and carried the flashing red strip off down, down the icy, rushing brook."

"So Bibley Wah screamed like anything and got the boys to chase the fleeing sled, which acted just as if it was hurrying back down the hill to Baby Emile. The boys raced after it, and finally when it caught on a willow snag halfway home they got Hank Fritz to come with an ax and chop it out. Then Bobbie ran down the hill and traded it for a little sled with a bluebird all scratched off its shiny top by Frenchy blouse buttons," daddy ended, with two kisses.

The remaining players are to walk and stop at the number of steps given by the leader. The leader turns his back and begins to count. When he has reached the selected number he turns suddenly around and faces the players. Meanwhile the players have run forward, but when the leader reaches the selected number they stop. If the leader catches any one moving that player becomes the leader, and the game proceeds.

How to Make Attractive Luncheon Sets to Replace a Burden.

Many of the new luncheon sets are square instead of round. Whether it is merely a passing fad or a fashion here to stay remains to be seen. These square sets have a wide hem and a drawnwork border three-quarters of an inch wide, and a feature of this new drawnwork is the introduction of colored threads.

Swedish weaving is another form of needlework being revived and is applied to household linens. It is really based on drawnwork, but is slightly different, worked in color and quite simple. The delightful part is that after one has acquired a working knowledge of the few stitches used one can create one's own design.

How to Make the Beds So That Slumber Really Refreshes.

To make up a bed so that it will be smooth tuck the clothes in, one piece at a time, at the sides, and complete the work all but tucking the clothes in at the foot. Now draw the clothes down, one piece at a time, as taut as possible and tuck them in at the foot. The bed will be far nicer looking than would be otherwise possible. If the bed is of iron or brass, which does not permit of tucking in the coverlet, tuck in the other clothes as directed, placing the coverlet over all.

ROCHELLE.

Rochelle, April 25—"The U. S. government has for its district attorneys men who are appointed through political pull or favoritism. When there is a change in the administration which means a change in politics the head United States attorney in each district strives to make as big a showing for his office as possible.
The subordinates in his office are usually instructed to get every indictment possible no matter what the grounds may be thus hoping to hold the office longer. This was the state of affairs in the summer of 1913, after Wilson's inauguration," according to Mabel Sturtevant of this city, who has been acquitted of a charge
of defrauding the mails.

Miss Sturtevant in reviewing the case says that she was the victim of an ambitious subordinate who desired her position of president of the organization to aid worthy college girls in financing their schooling despite the fact that the position means much hard work, little honor, no salary, and less thanks. Miss Sturtevant was willing to put it to a vote. The jealous woman refused and demanded that the president turn over some four or five thousand dollars not yet collected, and of course not in the treasury. A false warrant was procured to scare Miss Sturtevant out of office and an affidavit to secure the warrant was signed by an intimidated office employee. Finally the offices of the association were raided and alleged evidence of questionable type secured.

Miss Sturtevant tried for three years to get a hearing. She became run down in health and was advised by her attorneys and physicians to leave Chicago and go to a smaller place nearby. She chose Rochelle by merest chance. Her impressions of Rochelle are:

"During the past twelve years since I left my native state I have spent about equal portions of my time in Canada, the United States and in Europe. No place have I met more hospitable, fair-minded people than in Rochelle. I am happy to cast my lot with the people of Rochelle and vicinity."

likely the domestic science course for year so it will take as much time as other subjects and will give full cred-

A WORD WITH WOMENValuable Advice for Dixon Readers.

Many a woman endures with noble patience the daily misery of backache, pains about the hips, blue, nervous spells, dizziness and urinary disorders, hopeless of relief because she doesn't know what is the matter.

It is not true that every pain in the back or hips is trouble "peculiar to the sex." Often when the kidneys get congested and inflamed, such aches and pains follow.

You can tell it is kidney trouble if the secretions are dark colored, contain sediment the passages are too frequent or scanty. Then help the weakened kidneys. Don't expect them to get well alone.

Doan's Kidney Pills have won the praise of thousands of women. They are endorsed at home—Read this Dixon woman's convincing statement:

Mrs. C. Charlton, 516 Lincoln Ave., Dixon, says: "I suffered for a long time from pains across my back and sides. The trouble was particularly severe at night and early in the morning. When I bent over to lift anything, I was hardly able to straighten up again. My kidneys were inactive, too. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Leake Bros. Co.'s Drug Store, weren't long in giving me relief." (Statement given May 21, 1912.)

On January 21, 1915, Mrs. Charlton said: "I use Doan's Kidney Pills whenever my back gets lame or sore and they always help me."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Charlton has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

IRISH REVOLT IS SPREADING WEST

Censorship Lifted With Island Under Martial Law.

NEW OUTBREAKS ADMITTED

Asquith Announces Riots Have Occurred in South and West and More Troops Are Sent—Military Has Situation in Hand, Though Revolters Still Hold Certain Positions.

London, April 28.—With Dublin more nearly quiet and martial law prevailing all over Ireland, the government decided to raise the bar of censorship on the outbreak in the Irish capital and admit correspondents.

On a motion for adjournment in the house of commons Home Secretary Samuels announced that arrangements had been made for newspaper correspondents to go to Ireland and watch the course of events. Only such information as might be of disadvantage to the entente allied cause would be censored, he said.

Many Districts Quiet.

The only information received from Ireland, added the home secretary, was that over considerable districts matters had been quiet. Nothing had been received from the disturbed districts, he said. Full reports of the course of events would be communicated to the public between now and the next meeting of the house on Tuesday, he promised.

The declaration of martial law over the entire country followed the admission in the commons by Premier Asquith that the revolt had spread to other parts of the country, especially in the west. Hitherto martial law had prevailed only in the City and County of Dublin.

Trouble Chiefly in West.

Mr. Asquith said that for obvious reasons he did not like to name the other places to which the trouble had spread, but there had been in the west and south, but particularly in the west, places where there was a development of the movement. Very stringent precautions were being taken by the military authorities to deal with these places.

Replying to John Redmond, who said he had been unable to communicate with Dublin, Mr. Asquith said he expected communication would be restored at once.

Situation Still Serious.

The Irish situation still presented serious features, the premier admitted. In Dublin some fighting is still in progress in the streets, and the rebels continue to hold important public buildings.

It was announced that in addition to troops already dispatched to Ireland to cope with the situation others were being sent and that Major General Sir John Maxwell, who formerly commanded the British forces in Egypt, was leaving in the afternoon for Ireland. The general has been given plenary powers, under martial law, over the whole country.

Riot Planned for Easter.

There seems to be no doubt that the rising in Ireland had been carefully planned for Easter Sunday, when the plotters probably counted on many officials and members of the military taking a holiday. The German naval sally against the English coast towns and the Zeppelin raid apparently were part of the general scheme.

Man Is Taken Off Ship for Making Photographs.

New York, April 28.—An agent of the department of justice, a United States secret service man and a representative of the neutrality squad of the customs house met the steamship Colon on its arrival from Cristobal and took into custody one of the passengers, said to be a German. It was asserted that the man had been taken into custody on orders from Washington and that nothing could be divulged as to his identity at present. He was not under arrest, it was said. Information was also withheld at the offices of the United States secret service.

Washington, April 28.—The German arrested on the steamer Colon at New York is detained because an army officer received an anonymous letter saying the man had been taking photographs or making pictures of the Panama canal fortifications. If the pictures are not found upon him or in his effects he will be released. His name was withheld.

B. & O. Lifts Embargo on Grain. Baltimore, Md., April 28.—Announcement is made that the Baltimore & Ohio railroad has lifted its embargo on grain from points along its lines west of Pittsburgh, Wheeling and Bellaire, Ohio, whether for domestic use or export.

Poisonous Flowers.

Flowers of the jonquil, white hyacinth and snowdrop all possess a poisonous nature, the narcissus being also particularly deadly, so much indeed that to chew a small scrap of one of the bulbs may result fatally, while the juice of the leaves is an emetic.

The berries of the yew have killed many persons, and it is known nowadays that it is not safe to eat many peach pits or cherry kernels at once. The lobellias are all dangerous.

Lady's slipper poisons in the same manner as does poison ivy. The bulbs seem to be the most harmful. Lilies of the valley are also as much so. There is enough opium in red poppies to do mischief, and the autumn crocus, if the blossoms are chewed, causes vomiting and purging.

The leaves and flowers of the oleander are deadly, and the bark of the catalpa tree is very mischievous. The water dropwort when not in flower resembles celery and is virulent.—Country Gentleman.

Cutting Off Noses.

Rameses II, of Egypt cut off the nose of any person convicted of treason or arson. Actianes, another Egyptian ruler, punished robbers in the same way. After each nose had been amputated back even with the bridge the culprit was sent to a colony of noseless felons, the place of banishment being known as Rhinocornum, from the nature of the punishment its colonists had undergone.

In England in 1671 Lord Coventry, then "great keeper of the British seal," had his nose cut off by order of the king because he had dared to ask some questions about an actress then playing at Drury Lane theater.

A conscript who protested openly that he had been enrolled in the army of Frederick the Great in a fraudulent manner had his nose amputated by order of that sovereign, who spoke of the punishment as an "indelible mark on the front side of the face."

Watch Your Shoulders.

When standing before a looking glass notice if your shoulders are the same height. Generally the right is higher than the left. The reason for this unevenness lies in the way one sits. You get into a comfortable chair at your desk, and at once you rest your right elbow on the arm of your chair or your desk, thus throwing one shoulder higher than the other. This is especially the case where one writes a great deal. When you notice that one shoulder is higher than the other the thing to do is to change your way of sitting at your desk. Two simple exercises will be beneficial. The arm of the lower shoulder should be extended upward, the hand grasping a dumbbell.
That of the higher shoulder should be lowered and made to support a heavy weight.

How to Tell Parcel Post Charges.

If you know the zone in which is located the postoffice to which you desire to send a parcel post parcel you may figure out the postage required by a simple method.
If the office is in zone No. 1 or No. 2
add to the figure or figures representing the weight the numeral 4. If the weight is ten pounds the postage will be 14 cents, if it is five pounds the postage will be 9 cents, and if it is one pound the postage will be 5 cents.
If the office is in zone No. 3 multiply the weight by 2 and add 4.
If in zone No. 4 multiply by 4 and
add 3.
If in zone No. 5 multiply by 6 and
add 2.
If in zone No. 6 multiply by 8 and
add 1.
If in zone No. 7 multiply by 10 and
add 1.
If in zone No. 8 multiply by 12.
This scheme is good for packages up to and including twenty pounds. It was worked out by an ingenious attache of the Chicago postoffice.—Farm

ladies, stupid old ladies, musty-fusty old ladies, dainty old ladies, wise old ladies, silly old ladies, Whistler's mother old ladies, Betsy Trotwood old ladies, white spatted old ladies, churchy old ladies, sit-by-the-fire old ladies, tangling old ladies and old ladies who don't wish to be called old ladies at all.
Nowadays most of them are so busy working in public causes that they have not time to protect their own interests as they should. But let us hope that after awhile they will organize a new association, to be called the Society for the Promotion of Distinctive Characterizations For Old Ladies, and that it will have displayed prominently on its banners the slogan "Down With the Word 'Dear'!"—Scribner's.

GOLF TOGS.

Style Tips About Your
Looks on the Links.

The girl who plays golf is in her element these days, for at the first touch of spring she gets out her golf bag—if she hasn't been using it all winter on the southern links—dons a pair of low heeled shoes, a close fitting hat, a short skirt and a comfortable sweater and hies herself to the links for a glorious day of golf.

When we say that the girl who plays golf dons low heeled shoes, a short skirt and the rest of the sporting paraphernalia it must not be thought that her costume is in any way unattractive or that any sort of clothes will do for this game. The day has passed when this was the case. Time was when the golfing girl was not a thing of beauty nor yet a joy forever, but fortunately that time is of the past, not the present.

Today the girl who plays golf presents a trim, immaculate figure. She is clad in well cut clothes designed on comfortable but at the same time becoming lines. Her golf skirt is sometimes of linen, sometimes of tweed, but whatever the material used it fits her figure beautifully and swings gracefully at every stroke. Her blouse, though a plain one, is wonderfully made, often sewed by hand and ornamented with the finest of fine stitches.
While it is usually mannish in cut, it loses nothing in beauty by this fact,
for a bright tie at the throat or fancy buttons add a feminine note.

The hat of the golfing girl is a sensible but pretty affair. It is snug fitting, so that in the midst of the game the player need not be disturbed by breezes dislodging her headgear. Usually it is fairly large so that the eyes may be shaded from sunshine and the complexion guarded from tan. A panama with a single ribbon band is a popular golfing hat, though there are numerous other types of headgear which meet with the athletic girl's approval.

The most fascinating part of the whole costume worn by the girl who plays golf is the vivid covered silk sweater worn over her sport blouse.

on straps, held by white crochet buttons. From shoulder seams to skirt bottom extend two plain strips, in good contrast with the plaid kilt. This pretty outfit is worn over a white linen gimpe, edged with stout tuchon.

PINK IS POPULAR.

A Run on Pinks Shows Many Different Shades For Spring Wear.

Pink is the color of the day in woman's dress.

Pink is not an especially aesthetic color, but it is a becoming color. It brings out the best in its wearer's looks. It has been said that a French woman always knows enough to run her lingerie with pink ribbons, for she, wise woman, knows that there is charming softness about pink that is found in no other color.
Geranium, petunia, orchid red and other shades with much of the rosiest that makes pink becoming are among the newest colors. And then there are the rose shades we have worn all winter and much of the shade that generally goes by the name pink.
Pink in the form of flowers is much used on spring hats.

One thing that shows the popularity of pink is the rows and rows of bottles of liquid or powder to color water in which pink things are washed. Pink liquid or powder is it, and it is added to the rinsing water.
